

Graduate Programs being offered in 2012 are:

Buying (2 years)

The various buying teams across all divisions of Woolworths Limited are responsible for determining which products they will buy and range in the stores, and how these products will be promoted to the customers to maximise sales and profits.

The two year Buying Graduate Program offers each graduate rotations throughout various divisions of the business.

Business Technology Services (IT) (2 years)

The Business Technology Services (BTS) division is a large and, diverse area offering exciting career opportunities across the company.

The various BTS departments across Woolworths Limited work with each business unit to determine their future needs, build solutions, test them, and support internal customers once implementation is complete. Every individual BTS team member affects the business through their work.

BTS Graduates will gain a wide range of experience across a variety of IT disciplines that include:

- Systems Development, Testing and Roll-out
- Support Roles (Service Desk, Project Support, Applications Support, Desktop Support)
- Architecture (Systems and Enterprise)
- Infrastructure Engineering, Data Storage and Networking
- IT Security (Analysis & Project work)
- Project Roles (Project Coordinator, Business Analysis, Project Management)

The BTS Graduate program is an excellent way to broaden your IT knowledge and experience. It is your opportunity to fast track your career as you demonstrate your ability / drive and expand your network through BTS and the wider business.

Finance (3 years)

Woolworths is organised as a combination of Divisional and Corporate Finance teams. Each retail brand has a finance team supporting their operations in terms of sales, costs and profitability as well budgeting and forecasting. In addition, divisional finance teams provide guidance and assistance to support other business teams such as Buying & Marketing.

Our Corporate Finance team works to provide support to trading divisions as well as providing a full range of organisational finance accounting services such as taxation, treasure, business planning and financial control. Opportunities for graduates are available in many of the different finance departments within the business.

Property (2 years)

The role of the Property Group within Woolworths Limited is to ensure we identify, secure and develop sites that enable us to reach new customers and better serve our existing customers. This is done through store refurbishment and the management of day to day property maintenance matters, as well as managing the portfolio of leased and owned properties (including stores, distribution centres and support offices) throughout the country.

Our Property Group is organised as four disciplines which are: Property Development, Property Management, Property Finance and Asset Management.

Logistics (2 years)

The Logistics Division is responsible for the storage and distribution of stock to our stores nationally. Logistics integrates key business units through a number of activities that enable the movement of products from the supplier to the customer.

The Logistics process involves managing the flow of goods from vendors, wholesalers and distributors through an internal processing function that includes warehousing and transportation. The goods are then delivered to our stores, and made available for sale to our customers.

Our Logistics Graduate Program involves rotations through the operational and support divisions of Logistics. Graduates have the opportunity to learn from our experienced operations teams as well as gain exposure to a variety of the logistics support office functions including replenishment, logistics program office, national transport and international logistics. Throughout the program graduates will become involved in key activities affecting daily operations through to strategic initiatives.
